CIO Committee Votes To Expell 'Reds' Errors In Estimate Charged By City Engineer Barckhoff

Reuther Group Set Against UE And FE

CIO Convention In Turmoil Over Left Wing Branches

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2—(AP)—The CIO ruthlessly began its "Red" purge today, amending its constitution to bar Communists from union control and arranging to bounce the nation's largest so-called left-wing union.

Walter P. Reuther's powerful resolutions committee reported to the convention it had approved "by overwhelming vote" the expulsion of the United Electrical Workers and the Farm Equipment Workers.

The two unions had pulled off a quick merger last week, but it wasn't recognized by the CIO.

Feel First Ax
The UE, with up to 450,000 members, and FE with another 20,000, will be the first to feel the right-wing axe. UE's delegates, yesterday, issued a terrific blast at President Philip Murray and Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey, and announced it would pay no more dues to the CIO.

That was about as defiant as a union could go without being spanked, and Reuther's committee took on the task of dealing out the punishment.

With only Harry Bridges of the Longshoremen, Abram Flaxer of the United Public Workers, and James Durkin of the Office and Professional Workers dissenting, the resolution to revoke UE's charter was adopted in committee.

The resolution said the UE's certificate of affiliation "has fallen into the control of a group devoted primarily to the principles of the Communist party and opposed to the constitution and democratic objectives of the CIO."

Jurisdiction Changed
Jurisdiction of the electrical and allied industries would be handed over to a new group, reportedly backed by Carey, UE's first president ousted by the present left-wing leadership.

Murray said there were "insurrections" among locals against the leftist administration, and therefore a new right-wing union might pick up virtually all of the present UE membership—regarded by many as an optimistic appraisal of the situation for the right wing.

Even before the CIO acted, at least one right wing UE local went ahead and withdrew from the parent organization.

In Pittsburgh, officers of the 13,700-member Local 601 at Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s big East Pittsburgh plant decided unanimously to get out.

The local's record secretary, Stanley Glass, said: "But we are still in the CIO."

First Snow Flurries Predicted Tonight

Snow flurries—the first of the season—are predicted for tonight by the Ohio weather department. Although that report indicates a rapidly approaching winter, the snow won't amount to much. It probably will melt when it hits the ground.

Tuesday morning's heavy frost was the cause of at least one accident in Salem. Harry Laughlin of the Depot road, a clerk at the Lape hotel, slipped and fell at his home on frosty ground, fracturing his leg. He was treated at Salem City hospital.

J & L Pension Agreement On Expected List

Second Major Steel Firm Huddles With CIO's Murray

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2—(AP)—A second major steel firm—Jones & Laughlin—was believed close to an agreement with Philip Murray today on terms that would end its strike.

Murray, president of the CIO and the Steelworkers union, conferred for three hours here last night with officials of the Pittsburgh company.

One high union source said the situation looked "hopeful."

Ben Moreell, president and chairman of Jones & Laughlin, and industrial relations Director Victor Lawrence refused, however, to discuss prospects for a settlement.

Sources close to Murray said further conferences are planned with Jones & Laughlin this week.

Both Moreell and Lawrence took rooms at Hotel Cleveland. It was understood they would remain here and that the firm's actuarial experts will bring data on pensions and insurance to them for study.

Jones & Laughlin is the industry's fourth largest producer. It employs 42,000 workers, about half as many as second place Bethlehem steel, which settled with Murray Monday night for the industry's first $100 a month pension plan.

A series of developments here and elsewhere led to optimism on the entire steel front—shut down for a month.

Regional directors of the striking Steelworkers union descended on areas where plants are closed. Some of them had to leave the CIO convention here, where they were delegates.

In Washington, Director Cyrus S. Ching of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service predicted other agreements "pretty soon."

Although negotiations were ready to be resumed with many of the largest firms, there still was no sign of a resumption of bargaining with the biggest of them all—United States Steel.

Woman In Car Mishap In Serious Condition

The condition of Mrs. Sterling Mummert, 26, of Alliance, who was injured in an auto accident on the Teegarden road Monday afternoon, was described as serious today at Salem City hospital.

She suffered a possible fracture of the pelvis, internal injuries, contusions and shock.

Benny Fisher, 38, of 240 W. Wilson st., also injured in the same mishap is slightly improved today.

Indonesian Republic Set Ends 300-Year Rule By Dutch

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS, Nov. 2—(AP)—The United States of Indonesia, the world's newest republic, came into being today with an agreement ending 300 years of Dutch rule over the rich East Indies.

Spurred by international pressure and United Nations guidance the Indonesians and Dutch signed an agreement setting up a federal republic for 70,000,000 Asians, linked in equal partnership with the Dutch crown.

Both sides hailed the agreement as the dawn of a new era in the Indies—but the Indonesians tempered their enthusiasm somewhat.

Dr. Mohammed Hatta, prime minister of the Indonesian republic, one of the signatories of the pact said:

New Guinea Disputed
"New Guinea is still a matter of dispute and an endeavour small be made to solve this question in 1950, the year following the transfer of sovereignty."

The Indonesians had wanted to include Dutch New Guinea in the new United States of Indonesia. Rather than permit the 10 week-old round table conference to fail, they agreed New Guinea should remain under Dutch control for another year, pending further discussions with the Dutch.

The signing of agreements took place at a final plenary session of the round table conference presided over by Dr. Willem Drees, Netherlands premier.

In his opening address Dr. Drees stressed the historical importance of the day to the Dutch and Indonesian peoples and to the world.

The fabulously rich archipelago—the goal of Columbus when he stumbled on a new world—is to be a sovereign state.

Navarre Man Awaits Check Charge Hearing

LISBON, Nov. 2—Leonard W. Seacrist, 30, of Navarre is today awaiting a hearing here before Justice Felix Butch on a charge of issuing forged checks.

He was arrested by Sheriff Howard Clark Tuesday while at work in a Massillon plant. The warrant charges that Seacrist passed forged checks for $75 at both the Salona Supply Co. of Salem and the Homeworth Supply Co. on June 22 and another for $85 on July 5 at the Kensington Supply Co.

Beserk Jail Lodger Charged With Assault

A warrant charging assault with intent to kill has been made out against Clarence Weaver, 37, of Cleveland, who went berserk last Friday night in city jail.

The warrant charges Weaver with attempting to kill both Tim O'Connell, 73, of Columbus, a night lodger in the jail, and Police Captain James Hassey, who finally shot Weaver in the leg.

Weaver has been under 24-hour guard at City hospital. His physical condition is good.

He beat O'Connell with a milk bottle and with O'Connell's wooden leg before being stopped by Hassey's gun.

City council entered the case picture Tuesday night when Safety Director C. E. Phillips asked for funds to pay two special policemen who have been guarding Weaver's room at City hospital. Phillips was in doubt as to where the funds should come from. Council's finance committee is considering the problem, a new one in Salem.

Lewis Coal Confab Brings Peace Hint

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—(AP)—Hopes for labor peace rose today on an indication that John L. Lewis, acting fast after the first break in the steel strike, may be angling for a coal strike settlement. It was only a hint—nothing conclusive.

Less than a day after CIO President Philip Murray signed a precedent-setting welfare plan with Bethlehem Steel Corp., Lewis made a move. He suddenly called a miners' union policy meeting for next Monday in Chicago.

But why Chicago? The site suggested a possible coal peace pact with Illinois producers. Some of them have been reported, impatient for a settlement. An agreement with Illinois producers would give Lewis a possible industry pattern such as Murray hopes he has for steel with the Bethlehem pension-insurance contract.

A denial that Illinois operators were wavering from the stand taken with coal producers from other sections came from Fred S. Wilkey, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators Association. But Wilkey conceded the Lewis meeting in Chicago was "very unusual."

ALLIANCE DRIVE SHORT

October Weird Weather Month Records Hit Hard, Report Reveals

Although it might be boring to hear it again, let's face the facts. October was another unusual month—weatherwise.

According to L. H. Copeland, U. S. cooperative weather observer, the past 31-day period was one of the warmest Octobers in the last 57 years, averaging 55.8 degrees.

The all-time record was set in 1947, with a 57.4 average. The normal temperature for October is 51.4 degrees, he added.

One record to fall by the way—side last month was the month's high of 90 degrees. That reading was established on Oct. 10. The month was so warm that the first killing frost did not occur until Oct. 27—another all-time record.

Frost Came Late
The delay of frosts lengthened the growing days to 180, compared to the average of 145.

Every month this year, except April, has been above normal in temperature and has put the year 7,030 degrees ahead of average.

Precipitation was down in October, however. Only 1.02 inches of rain fell last month, well under the average of 2.50 inches. That still wasn't as bad as the drought suffering in 1924 when only 0.08 inch was noted. A year ago 2.73 inches of rain fell in October.

There were six rainy days in the month, putting the year 5.12 inches short on rainfall. The underground water table is unusually low. Farmers have been compelled to have water for live stock, Copeland reveals.

Good soaking rains are needed to replenish wells, springs and streams before winter sets in.

October had 15 clear days, four cloudy and 12 partly cloudy. Sunshine was 70 percent, over the average of 50 percent.

Wheat fields look good, Copeland says, and the corn crop is mostly in the crib. The crop was not up to the expectations due to the fall drought.

"There were only two melancholy days during the month," Copeland stated, "and I've never seen the countryside more beautiful with fall colors."

We've now reached the parting of the ways, he said. The nice weather is about to go and we can look for gloomy days and the approach of winter. We should have more rain in November and cooler weather.

Approval of the East Cold Run water supply program for Salem was delayed Tuesday after city council heard a written protest from City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff regarding the survey filed with the city by the Chester Engineering Co., its consultants.

Barckhoff, in a letter to council last night, pointed to two "mistakes" in figuring cost estimates on the Butler project (Mahoning river area) which, he said, "do not place the relationship between the Cold Run and the Butler projects in the right proportions."

If accurate, Barckhoff's "corrections" in the estimates would lop off $230,000 in the costs of the Butler project and make the differential between the Butler project and the recommended East Cold Run job more than $400,000. (The text of Barckhoff's letter will be found on Page 12.)

Barckhoff's letter came on the eve of approval for the Cold Run job, which the Chester firm had strongly advocated. The Salem Manufacturers association and the Salem Chamber of Commerce, have approved the Cold Run project.

Re-appraisal Asked
Council officially requested a complete re-appraisal of the two projects by the Chester Co. and a report and recommendation in light of the statements made by the city engineer.

Council obviously was displeased last night with the city engineer's stand on the matter, but delayed accepting the report because of the importance of the statements. Councilmen expressed resentment that Barckhoff had not spoken of the discrepancies in earlier sessions on the water problem.

The Cold Run program has been recommended to the city by the Chester Engineering Co., of Pittsburgh, its hired consultants, at an estimated cost of $1,188,000.

Barckhoff's contention is that the two projects, in relation to costs, are not compared in the proper light in the firm's detailed survey report.

Projects Compared
The Cold Run project would locate a reservoir near Guilford lake, pumping water into Salem through the reservoir now located on the Stewart road. The Butler project is designed to draw supply from the headwaters of the Mahoning river with potentialities of other and additional supplies from the North Georgetown area.

Both projects, Barckhoff claims, are laid out with the same lines of planning. He favors the Butler project because of its economy features.

The city engineer, who has spent some 20 years in studying the Salem water problem, wrote council that he felt a delay should be made on the decision until the Pittsburgh firm can reconsider, in the light of two mistakes in estimates, the two projects which follow essentially the same line of thinking as to source and the means to bring it to the city.

Barckhoff's letter points to errors in the costs estimates which make the Butler project costs about $800,000, some $230,000 cheaper than those shown by the engineering firm in its survey report.

This differential in the estimated costs would actually make the Butler project approximately $400,000 more economical than the project recommended by the Pittsburgh company.

Barckhoff points out in his Turn to ERRORS, Page 12

Wishful Security

There are enough gimmicks and whereas in the social security schemes now being developed to satisfy labor unions to keep 10,000 lawyers and economists busy for the next five years, and they'll not miss opportunity.

Some fundamental realities that should be muffled over in mind while legislators and "fact-finders" are totting up the score are:

The newest formulas, such as the one agreed to by Bethlehem Steel Corp. and United Steelworkers this week, are extensions of old formulas. Granting security benefits to employees wasn't invented as an industrial policy by union strategists. The Bethlehem plan merely adds to a plan put into effect by that company long before United Steelworkers came into existence.

All the new formulas are worked out in relation to the federal old age and survivors' insurance formulas, under which government assumes the obligation to pay certain benefits in return for the payment of payroll taxes by the beneficiaries. Funds set aside by employers under the new formulas, like all funds used to pay workers' benefits previously, are exempt from federal taxation. It is now an established public policy, in other words, to encourage development of private security plans as part of the basic laid down in the Social Security act. The key to the plans is the obvious fact that employers would rather do something directly for the benefit of their own employees than pay taxes to the federal government, if given a free choice.

The kind of wishful security represented by the formulas which strong unions are demanding never can be realized without an unprecedented degree of monetary stability in the United States. Without such stability, insurance benefits and retirement payments are a mockery of security. The new plans, like all the old ones, mean that workers have a vested interest in their employer's success. Unless they and their representatives are intelligent about this, they will prove themselves to be as stupid as John Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

Mr. Lewis and his advisers, knowing that miners' current income and future security depended on the financial success of the coal industry, nevertheless have been so blinded by prejudice that they have been cutting off their nose to spite their face. They have systematically curtailed the incomes of miners and the income of the operators of mines, to demonstrate the power of their union. They have put coal at a disadvantage in competition with other fuels. They have curtailed the very payments which were to have been returned to miners in the form of benefits. Miners today, all things considered, have no more security than they had before, thanks to Mr. Lewis' curious conception of industrial statecraft. And they probably have less.

No one can begin to understand all the implications of the wishful security which everybody now is so busily arranging for himself and everybody else. But there's no lack of implications. Not everybody who is talking about security is going to get it. And nobody will get it without an unprecedented degree of intelligent cooperation to increase the total amount of wealth which is the source of all security.

All The World, Etc.

Six days after his forthcoming marriage to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley on Nov. 18, Vice President Barkley will be 72 years old. Mrs. Hadley is 38.

The disparity in their ages can't be ignored, and Mrs. Hadley and her future husband have no misgivings to that score. Their romance has been competing for public interest so successfully that there couldn't be any secrets about the fact they've fallen for each other like the proverbial ton of bricks.

His constituents congratulate their vice president without reservations. He is so obviously happy about his good fortune that everybody else feels happy in his happiness. Not the least of the good feelings inspired by his courtship and the announcement of a wedding date comes from the fact that here at last is one vice president of the United States who has escaped the customary obscurity of that baffling position. In future lists of vice presidents, whatever may happen from now on, Alben Barkley's name will be readily identified. It belonged to the vice president who brought to a successful completion one of the most publicized courtships of his day.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

Turns out the U.N. cornerstone will have to be relocated. . . the building wasn't quite ready but the New York political campaign was.

O'Dwyer's chances look fair, but if necessary Mr. Truman will come back and lay a cornerstone on the other end of the building.

Any building of the United Nations can't have too many cornerstones.

But prospects for peace look much better. . . the delegates will work behind six acres of glass and you know how it is to live in a glass house.

We're having a great election in New York. . . Marcantonio has promised, if elected to bring back the five-cent fare. In his closing speech he's expected to come out strongly for the kerosene lamp, button shoes and handlebar mustaches for all policemen.

All O'Dwyer has promised is continued aid to Europe, fair wages for the steelworkers of Pittsburgh and garden apartments for all natives of Puerto Rico. . . that is, if he can get the city council to legislate nationally.

It's the fruit of carelessness that often upsets your apple cart.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—There is a hubbub on the horizon over whether America should elect a lady President.

The mere suggestion of an elected female boss in the White House has stirred a lot of anguished male yawning, but a "Madam President" is as inevitable for the United States as the return of short skirts.

This is because power tends to move in a single direction, unless changed by rebellion or revolution. And for 100 years real power in this country has moved steadily from men to women in every field. This trend could be reversed only by a mass male revolt—and today there isn't enough insurrection of this kind left in American men to quell a girls' basketball team from Guatemala.

Today women own most of America, and therefore it is high time they took over the responsibility of running it. They have ducked their duty long enough. It is for that reason that this poor man's philosopher pledges himself to cast a ballot for the first lady to head a national major party ticket. Be she Democrat or Republican, she gets my vote—and as many more as I can stuff in the box.

A recent Gallup poll showed public sentiment has changed sharply on the question. It found 48 per cent of the voters were willing to support a qualified lady presidential candidate, whereas in 1937 only 33 per cent would pledge themselves to such a precedent-shattering step.

Men are fools to oppose the idea of a woman President. Instead of opposing it, they should demand it. Once and for all it would end the feminine delusion that the mess the world's in is strictly man-made. Let's dwell a while in a political stew stirred by the dainty hand of woman. It'll be a change anyway. The truth is, of course, that the globe's troubles arise because people are people, not because the leaders wear a blouse or a vest. But let's let the girls find this hard fact out for themselves.

Only a false sense of pride has caused men to take over the reins of power and shorten their lives with worry. Nature meant men to be gay, careless, thoughtless children of the sun. Nature meant women to work, plod and worry, and gave them a greater vitality for these tasks. Why not insist then that they run government and industry? Let them enjoy the wrinkles and coronary thromboses that go with care and authority.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has predicted the Republicans will run in 1952 if they name a woman on the ticket. But I am against any plan to begin feminine rule by nominating a woman for Vice President. For if elected, she would preside over the U. S. senate, and I would spare the good, gray—and bald—heads of the august body this ignominy.

If we're going to go about it in earnest, then for the sake of old sentiment let's first retire these fine old male warriors and elect an all-girl senate.

But the proper thing to do is to elect a woman President straightaway—on a clear-cut issue of lady rule.

I wouldn't mind if my own wife were the first winning candidate. This is not so much because I could latch onto part of her $100,000 salary—or that she would have $50,000 a year in tax-free pin money.

No, it's because of this possibility: When an acquaintance said, "who was the lady I saw you out with last night?" I could reply: "That wasn't no lady—that was your President."

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

A COLLECTION of fluid within the chest cavity is known as pleural effusion.

In most cases, this disorder is usually considered the result of tuberculosis. Even though the tuberculosis may not have shown up in any other way at the time the effusion occurs, it frequently manifests itself shortly thereafter.

In a study made of 100 patients with pleural effusion, tuberculosis of the lung was found in 21 and tuberculosis of the kidney in one within six months. Other studies have shown that tuberculous infection in the lungs may be expected to develop up to even five years after the fluid collects in the chest cavity. The latter condition comes on gradually with pain in the chest, fever, and a feeling of sickness. The symptoms are much like those which occur in virus pneumonia.

Withdrawal of some of the fluid from the chest cavity and examination of it may help to give information that makes a diagnosis possible. X-ray examination of the lungs is important.

Rest In Bed

Treatment of the disorder consists of rest in bed and removal of enough of the fluid to help prevent the formation of adhesions between the lining membrane over the lung and that of the chest cavity. The patient should have at least one year of bed rest in order to help check the progress of any tuberculous infection in the lungs. Then, for a period of four years after discharge, he should be examined regularly at frequent intervals and X-rays made of the chest.

The test known as the sedimentation test is helpful as a guide to the treatment. A sedimentation test is made by seeing how rapidly the blood cells settle out of the fluid of the blood. The normal rate does not necessarily mean, however, that the tuberculous infection will not develop later, nor can it be used as a guide as to the amount of time that should be spent in bed.

Of course, care should always be taken in making a diagnosis of the disease, since the treatment requires such a prolonged period of bed rest and puts a great economic burden on the patient and his family. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS J. D.: My stomach quivers and my heart races every time I eat. Please advise.

Answer: This disorder is probably due to some nervous disturbance.

You are in need of a thorough study to determine the exact cause; then proper treatment can be carried out.

Rabbi Says Religion Is Key To American Unity

Religious unity is the only bulwark that will keep America's enemies, without and within, from destroying this country, according to Dr. Sidney Berkowitz of Youngstown, guest speaker, at a dinner meeting of the Quota club Tuesday evening in the Memorial building.

Dr. Berkowitz, rabbi of Rodef Sholem temple, who was well received by the Quotarians and their guests, pointed out that these are very serious days for American life. He stated that during the war there seemed to be a solid phalanx of our American citizenry to bring about a successful end. Now the "iron" is cooling off, and the rabbi senses the "hiss of the viper prejudice."

A chaplain in World War II, Dr. Berkowitz, who served with the rank of major, centered his talk around Christianity and Judaism.

"If the great faiths of America are to protect us and keep us strong, then we can no longer enjoy the liberty of thinking that I am right and the rest of you poor souls are 100 per cent wrong, without hope, whatsoever," the doctor avers.

Tolerance Supported

"In the light of modern research it is no longer possible for the scholarly Christian or Jew to speak with contempt of the beliefs of eastern peoples," the speaker opined.

"Christians and Jews must remember that we share a firm belief in a Supreme Being. The yearning for God, the need for prayer, is universal. It knows neither denominational, racial nor national boundaries," the rabbi said.

There is a blank page in many Bibles, which separate the Testaments, and Dr. Berkowitz explained that this one page is not symbolic of what separates Christians and Jews, but rather shows how close Christianity and Judaism are together.

"Without the Bible, Christianity and Judaism have neither a religious nor an inspirational source. Christian and Jew alike cannot but be familiar with the commanding part that has been taken in our civilization by the moral code of the Bible.

"Erase all aspects of our modern civilization which have been profoundly influenced by the Bible and we find ourselves, particularly with respect to what we call culture, back in the age of savagery.

Religion Tightens Bonds

"Sharing the sacred literature as we do in our religious and daily lives, we draw tighter, the bonds that make us one."

Miss Hazel Linn, president, officiated. Mrs. Thomas E. Crothers, program chairman, introduced Atty Lozier Caplan, a guest, who presented the speaker.

Other guests were Mrs. Caplan, Mrs. Berkowitz, Miss Lois O'Connell of San Francisco, Calif., a charter member of the club who is here on a visit, and Mrs. John Templin of New Zealand.

The speaker's table was beautifully appointed in keeping with the Halloween season. Favors were miniature orange and black baskets filled with candy.

Pumpkin centerpieces made all the tables attractive. Mrs. William W. Simpson, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Miss Eva Simpson and Mrs. Laura Conrad composed the committee in charge.

The members received invitations to the Fiesta fair of the Cleveland club Friday evening in the Christian Children's home there and to the 27th birthday party of the Youngstown Quotarians, at 6:45 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 12, at the Youngstown club.

Visitors Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Godward and son, Michael, of Los Angeles, Calif., have left for home after a short visit with relatives in Salem. Miss Della Steepce and Frank Steepce of E. Fourth st. are aunt and uncle of Mr. Godward.

A dinner party last Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Balta honored the Californians. Out-of-town relatives present were Mrs. Jack Geisy and son of Youngstown and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shepherd of the Washingtonville rd.

Salem people at the get-together, besides the Steepces, were Mrs. M. M. Harshman, Miss Elma Auld, Mrs. Floyd Stamp and four sons, Mr. and Mrs. James Leipper and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stratton.

Plans for the event were made at last night's session in G A R hall. The inspection will be conducted by Mrs. Vivian Diehl of Alliance.

The next meeting is set for Nov. 15.

Papers Read To Club

When members of the Travelers club met Tuesday afternoon in the public library assembly room they were entertained with two interesting papers which related to "The Ohio Story."

Mrs. John Works used for her theme, "Folklore," while "Fertile Fields" was the title of Mrs. G. A. Roose's paper.

Members will meet again Nov. 8.

To Speak To Guild

Mrs. T. W. Purviance of Salem will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's guild of St. Jacob's Reformed and Evangelical church Thursday afternoon at the church, near the Lisbon rd. Mrs. Purviance will discuss the United Nations.

There will be a coverdish dinner at noon, with Mrs. Arthur Rudebeck and Mrs. H. C. Zimmerman hostesses.

Birthdays Celebrated

The birthday anniversaries of F. L. Vincent and his daughter, Mrs. Helen Doyle, both of the Fairview rd., were celebrated at a family gathering Sunday at the Vincent home.

Decorated birthday cakes were served with the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Weaver of East Sparta were among the guests. Others were from Salem and vicinity.

Society Is Guest

Mrs. John Jurczak of 952 S. Union ave. will be hostess to members of the Dorcas society of Holy Trinity Lutheran church at 2:15 p. m. Thursday in her home.

Mrs. George Slocum of Washingtonville, formerly of Salem, will entertain members of the Past President's parley of the American Legion auxiliarily at a party Friday evening in her home.

'We, The Women'

by RUTH MILLETT

"If I could teach my daughter only two skills," writes a modern mother, "I'd see that she knows how to run a typewriter and how to drive a car."

Maybe she's got something there. Grandma could get by real well if she knew how to cook and how to sew. That was her personal security.

But a woman today is better prepared to face the world if she is master of a typewriter and automobile.

The typewriter will take care of her if she ever has to earn her own living, for knowing how to type is as good job insurance as a girl can have.

And the modern woman's new freedom is more tied up with knowing how to drive a car than we generally admit.

The wife who can't drive a car is at her husband's mercy. She goes just where he wants or is willing to take her—and practically nowhere else.

But the woman who can drive can pile the kids in the family car and get away from her own four walls.

MORE IMPORTANT THAN SEWING

It's no longer necessary for every woman to know how to sew. It's nice, but it's not essential. Plenty of women today who couldn't whip up an apron are successful homemakers.

It's not even necessary for a woman to know much about cooking. The package mix, frozen foods, and canned goods, have made cooking simple enough so an eight-year-old can turn out a tasty meal.

No man is expected to agree with these notions.

For it's the homemaking arts that cater to his comfort. But thousands of women owe their freedom from four walls to the automobile and their security to the typewriter. And they wouldn't trade the ability to type a neat letter or drive the family car for the ability to sew the finest seam or make the best apple pie in town.

Joseph Bodo and sons, Joseph, Jr., and George Thomas, and his father, Samuel Bodo, of Tampa, Fla., and a brother, Maj. Nick Bodo, of Orlando, Fla., who were here to attend the funeral of Thomas Beall, returned home today.

Mrs. Fanny Sargeant of S. Lundy ave. is spending a few days with her son, Lawrence Weigand, and family at Louisville.

Miss Lois O'Connell of San Francisco, Calif., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connell of Cleveland st.

Class Enjoys Social

The home was profusely decorated in Halloween trimmings when Irene Christiansen entertained members of the Queen Esther class of the First Friends church Monday evening at her home, W. State st.

There were 16 guests, including the teacher, Mrs. L. L. McClugage.

Contest prizes went to Beverly Wolfgang, Delores Long, Marjorie Mitchell, Graef Stratton and Marilyn Parker.

Refreshments were served from a charmingly appointed table centered with a decorated cake, and lighted with orange tapers in crystal.

Leetonia Girl Wed To Former Ohioan

LEETONIA, Nov. 2—Miss Shirley Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Holt and Sidney E. Dr. Robert J. Remsburg, the college pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman of Springfield were the attendants. Mrs. Sherman was the bride's roommate during college days.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue costume suit with matching accessories and white orchid corsage. Mrs. Sherman wore a rust gabardine suit with green accessories and brown orchid corsage.

of the East Fairfield Methodist church.

Kiwanians heard Monday evening an account of one of the earliest industries of Columbiana county, a paper mill, which was the first of its kind west of the mountains.

The story was told by Attorney William H. Vodrey, Jr., of East Liverpool who said the mill was located on Beaver creek east of East Liverpool, near the Ohio river. Its product was distributed along the Ohio valley, but facilities for transportation east of the mountains were meager.

The mill was in fact, in its day, among the first of its kind in the country. Paper was made of rags at that time and was much more durable than the wood pulp product of today which can more readily supply the tremendous demand. A sufficient output of rag paper would be impossible today.

The speaker had legal documents made of this paper, which are more than 100 years old and well preserved. He also had a copy of a "Navigators' Book," printed on this paper, of which few remain, because there were comparatively few printed and they were used so often by early settlers that they were worn out.

An old account book, which was found in a merchant's effects, had been printed on the product of this mill and contains interesting information. The mill was operated by water power.

Announcement was made of the joint meeting with Rotary next Monday evening at Fairfield school when farmers will be guests of both clubs.

The Columbiana Clippers will play Lisbon under the lights at Firestone park stadium Friday evening, beginning at 7:45.

Urges Federal Withdrawal From Pensions

Insurance Actuary, At C of C Session, Hits Current Plans

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(AP)—An insurance expert today urged the federal government to stick to social security and let states handle their old age pension problems.

But before that is done, social security should cover all workers, employed and self-employed, declared Reinhard A. Hohaus of New York. He is actuary for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Hohaus and Frank J. Collopy of Columbus addressed the 56th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce which began here today. Collopy is administrator of the State Bureau of Unemployment compensation. He explained changes in jobless benefit laws made by the last legislature.

Criticizes Revisions

Hohaus criticized social security law revisions recently approved by the house of representatives in Washington. They sought to liberalize federal aid to states for old age pensions. Hohaus put it this way:

"When the plan for grants-in-aid to the states was established the expectation was that, as the years went by, the old age insurance provision of the social security plan would increasingly take care of the problem of the aged."

"Unfortunately this has not occurred. In 1939 the federal and state expenditures for old-age assistance were $431,000,000, in the last fiscal year they were $1,300,000,000—three times as great."

Hohaus said three types of insurance against "hazards of life" have been developed. He listed them as: Individual insurance protection; employees group insurance plans, and federal social security.

"Each has its own functions to perform and should not be competitive with the others," he said. "With the emphasis on this three-fold 'insurance' approach, and with a sound economy for it to function in, assistance should quickly find its natural 'residual' level," he explained.

Travel Increase Seen By AAA Man

Tourist Dollar Hard To Get, Delegates Told

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2—(AP)—Recreational travel in the United States this year will break all previous records, 600 delegates to the American Automobile Association's 47th national convention were told today.

Total expenditure for recreational travel will reach nearly 10 billion dollars, William G. Bryant, chairman of the AAA's national touring board, reported.

"While the number of travelers is higher than in 1948," Bryant said, "the average 1949 traveler was more budget-conscious than at any time since the war. Competition for the tourist dollar is exceedingly keen this year."

Reports On Safety

In a report on safety, Lou E. Holland, chairman of the AAA traffic safety committee, noted pedestrian deaths have decreased by one-third in the last 11 years—from 15,500 in 1937 to 9,850 last year, when pedestrian toll was the lowest ever recorded.

Holland also emphasized the need for driver-training courses in public schools. He said 4,346 high schools now give complete courses in driver training, and 3,101 more provide classroom instruction. But, he added, these courses reach "only about one-fifth of some 2,000,000 teen-agers who annually come of age to drive."

The question of whether rural or urban roads need improvement most was debated at last night's session by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) and Spencer Miller, Jr., New Jersey state highway commissioner.

Kerr's contention that rural roads have been "too long neglected" was opposed in a report today from William A. Stinchcomb, chairman of the AAA's highway committee.

Stinchcomb said main urban highways of the nation are "inadequate and congested" and lag, dangerously behind rural highways and roads on the improvement program. He spoke against legislation sponsored by Senator Kerr and Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) to authorize spending $250,000,000 in federal money strictly for local rural roads.

Overseas Relief Articles Sought

Special European representatives will be on hand Friday evening at the World Community day program at 8 p. m. in the Baptist church to receive the gifts of material or "Pieces for Peace," which later will be sent for overseas clothing relief.

The World Community day program is put on through the cooperation of the Salem Council of Church Women and both men and women are invited.

The highlight of the meeting will be a talk by Mrs. James D. Wyker of Mount Vernon, president of the Ohio Council of Church Women. Besides being an ordained minister, Mrs. Wyker is on the lecture staff in agricultural extension, Ohio State university, and is a member of the commission on marriage and the home of the Federal Council of Churches.

Mrs. Wyker's husband is the Ohio director of Christian Rural Overseas program. She has travelled in England, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland and France for two months after attending the World Council of Churches assembly last year in Amsterdam.

Receptacles will be placed at the entrance of the church for the gifts of cloth, thread or needles, which will be password of the meeting. All materials will be packed later for overseas shipment.

About 7.6 per cent of the people in the United States now are 65 years or older.

Italian Colony Questions Settled

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A special U. N. group began putting into final form today its recommendations on the future of Italy's prewar African colonies.

After weeks of discussion the 21-nation subcommittee has reached decisions on what to do with Libya, Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

But diplomatic sources said the final verdict depends on whether the Latin American and Arab blocs can reach agreement on unified action. The 20 Latin American nations had a caucus scheduled this morning before the subcommittee session.

The question of the Italian colonies came before the U. N. last year under terms of the peace treaty with Italy because the Big Four powers were unable to agree on disposal of the African lands.

The subcommittee of the political committee debated for 18 days before agreeing on:

1. Independence for Libya by Jan. 1, 1952.

2. Independence for Italian Somaliland by 1959 and interim rule by Italy under a U. N. trusteeship.

3. A five-nation committee of inquiry be sent to Eritrea to report on conditions there.

Final decisions on the colonies must be reached by a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly.

which is why strenuous log-rolling efforts are being made to reach near unanimity on the question.

Can East Liverpool beat Salem Friday evening?
That's an interesting question these days and one that draws a varied response, depending on whether it's posed in Salem or East Liverpool.

Speaking quite frankly, the East Liverpool supporters feel that this is the year to end a three-year streak of Salem wins. Anyone who knows East Liverpool knows that the people there feel it's of vital concern that the Potters win over Salem each year. Many a coach has learned that in the past.

Salem, of course, feels about the same way—but in reverse order. Coach Barrett knows it far better than the average person, for he found himself in Salem for three straight years with a pretty fair record, but without that needed win over East Liverpool.

As a result, Salem's teams were regarded favorably but not with the enthusiasm or affection that came later when the Quakers notched victories over East Liverpool.

Beating the Potters each season was more and more important. Barrett now claims the longest win streak—and the best Salem record—ever compiled by one Quaker coach. He's not anxious to have it tattered in any way.

On the basis of the need for victory this week, the Salem High students and the Boosters club have arranged a gigantic pep rally for Thursday night.

The idea behind the thing is to illustrate—by a tremendous show of enthusiasm—just how much the community wants a victory over the Potters Friday. The team will be on hand to watch it and the community is guaranteeing a show of pep, will to win and concerned interest.

It's the first time in several years that such an affair has been arranged. It's a chance for all those "down-town coaches", Monday quarterbacks and female experts to get out, show themselves and the team that they're a real part of the whole pattern.

Thursday night may be an important spoke in the wheel of victory this week. Do your part, get out and show the team your interest.

This, by the way, is "Beat East Liverpool" week.

DEPT. OF INFORMATION
Howard Parker, genial East Palestine Building football coach, writes to inform Salem people that the Bulldog Boosters, to raise funds, is sponsoring a game between the Mount Union-Muskingum college freshmen Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5.

Those interested in the wares of both colleges might well make a trip to East Palestine to see and catch the collegiate stars of the future in action.

ODDS AND ENDS

Salem's jump into the "voted-for" category among the state's outstanding football teams comes as a surprise this week. . . . The locals have rated such a nod before, but this is the first time since 1947 they have made the grade. . . . Continued victories will help the position, and a loss, we might add, will kill all support. . . .

A flock of Salemites, probably about 1500 to 2000, will travel to East Liverpool Friday night. . . . The 500 tickets on sale here were gobbled up in nothing flat. . . . General admission seats WILL be on hand at Patterson field. . . . Don't stay home cause everyone can get in somehow.

Yankees, Dodgers Out-Placed By Sox On All-Star Nine

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, rivals in the last World Series, each gained two berths on the Associated Press' 1949 major league All-Star team.

Both, however, were forced to play second fiddle to the Boston Red Sox who led all clubs with three representatives—Outfielder Ted Williams and Pitchers Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder.

The remainder of the dream squad picked by a poll of 116 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America is composed of one player each from the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tommy Henrich, a converted first baseman, and Shortstop Phil Rizzuto are the World Champion Yankees on the squad. Second Baseman Jackie Robinson and Catcher Roy Campanella are the Dodgers' representatives.

Third Baseman George Keel, only Tiger on the team, received the most votes. He was named on 113 of the 116 ballots cast. Williams was next with 112. Others to hit the century figure were Robinson, 108, and Stan Musial, Cardinals' star flycatcher, 100. Campanella just missed with 99.

Henrich got 97 votes for first and five in the outfield. Musial got three additional votes, all for first base. The smallest number of votes for a winner went to Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run slugger, whose 66 votes won the right field post.

Rizzuto won with 83 votes. Only one vote separated the Red Sox pitching twins. The left-handed Parnell, who won 25 games and lost only eight, drew 78 votes, one more than the right-handed Kinder, who led all American league pitchers with a 23-6 won and lost record.

Of the ten men selected, only two are holdovers from the 1948 team. The incumbents are Williams and Musial. Williams, in fact, has been named on all four Associated Press teams starting in 1946.

Those missing from last year's squad include Johnny Mize, first base; Joe Gordon, second base; Lou Boudreau, shortstop; Bob Elliott, third base; Joe DiMaggio, center field; Birdie Tebbetts, catcher; and Johnny Sain and Harry Brecheen, pitchers.

Notre Dame's Might Faces Leahy's Machine Up Against Once-Downed Michigan State

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—And now Michigan State, a two-touchdown underdog, will try to play David to Notre Dame's football Goliath in the nation's game of the week at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday.

M. S. C.'s Spartans have only an opening 7-3 defeat by Michigan marring a record that includes five straight victories.

Some midwestern observers believe Michigan State now stands the most formidable barrier between Notre Dame and an undefeated season, even though the Irish still must face North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist.

Viewing their bag of 193 points against a yield of only 48 in six starts, the Spartans appear a rough, tough club capable even of stuffing Notre Dame's football lightning into a bottle.

But Tulane also came up against the Irish painted a sturdy foe, breathing gridiron fire and brimstone, with all the equipment necessary to make Irish Coach Frank Leahy's quivering fears come true.

Yet the outcome of that game three weeks ago was an unbelievable 46-7 trouncing of the then fourth-ranked Green Wave, billed as "the South's best team in years." Never did Notre Dame block, tackle, and run with such fury as in the first half against stunned Tulane.

Apparently the "Jads" were as impressed as the "experts" by Leahy's plait that Tulane was the strongest Irish opponent under his regime. They took the turf in a frenzy and had Tulane whipped to a frazzle in 10 minutes.

Now Leahy is sounding a hurricane warning on the Irish practice field. Michigan State, he claims, is vastly under-rated. The Irish-Spartan tangle, Frank says, may be settled by a single point.

Maybe the Irish will react to this goading and maybe they won't, but regardless they have the obvious class and manpower to carry the game to the Spartans from start to finish.

Pitt Confident Of Upsetting OSU

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The young men who play football for the University of Pittsburgh figure the experts are all wrong and that they'll score the gridiron surprise of the week against Ohio State Saturday.

Ohio State, a current Big 10 favorite, is considered a two-touchdown favorite over Pitt. The game here is a sellout.

Coach Mike Milligan of Pitt as well as Ohio State's Wes Fesler recall the 1947 meeting between the teams when Pitt won 12-0 for its only victory in a nine-game schedule.

Fesler coached Pitt in 1946 and the Pitt team that will take the field Saturday will include a number of players formerly coached by Fesler, such men as Lou Ceconi, offensive star of Pitt's 22-21 victory over Penn last week, and Bernie Barkowski, the guard who blocked a punt for the safety that won that game.

The Pitt team is reported in

"On Paper" Calculation Gives East Liverpool Eleven Edge In 36th Renewal Of Rivalry

By DON E. BEATTIE

Salem's Quakers were favorites last week against Akron Central, but this week they revert, according to the "on paper" calculations, to the role of 7-point underdogs as they clash with their arch-rivals, the East Liverpool Potters, in the 36th renewal of competition.

Coach Ben Barrett's Quakers have the better won-lost record, 5-2, as compared to East Liverpool's 4-3 mark, but the Potters can't help but be rated favorites in the comparisons available.

The key to such dopestering, the only source for a team by team analysis, is the New Philadelphia foe. Salem lost 21-7 to New Philly while the Potters went down 7-0 and most observers said they should have won the game.

East Liverpool, operating from a single wing formation and coached by Wade Watts, has been improving every week and reached what scouts call the "peak" just before the Martins Ferry tussle last Friday.

Against Ferry the Potters played their poorest game of the season, a factor laid to the absence, throughout most of the fray, of "Hurlin" Harold Stanley, a fierce little halfback and triple threat man and Veteran Gene Rose, one of the county's finest ends.

Sealey, who is the key man in the offense, suffered a mild concussion at Ferry and was on the bench most of the fray. Rose, with an ankle injury, also was out and may be out this week unless recovery hurries.

Watts, son of the former Baldwin-Wallace coach, Ray Watts, has built a small, fast and vicious defensive unit this year, his first at Potterstown.

His team hasn't been an up and down ball club—until the Ferry loss 14-0. Consistent and rugged, the light outfit has bested Steubenville 7-6, Youngstown South 20-13, Canton Lehman 32-14 and Akron East 13-12. Losses came at the hands of Lima South (14-13), New Philly (7-0) and Ferry (14-0).

In all the tilts the Potters were in the frays right up to the finish, always with a better than good chance of winning.

While Stanley, because of his triple talents at running, passing and booting, is the offensive star, he is closely pressed by a dynamic little speedster at fullback, "Bolton" Bill Bryson. Bryson is the man Coach Barrett was most impressed with against Ferry last week. But of course, Barrett didn't see much of Stanley.

Stanley is a passer of some repute. So much repute, in fact, that his record stands comparable, if not better, to Salem's Jimmy Callahan.

Stanley has rolled up a total of 825 yards gain with his pitch-good physical condition. Bog Plotz, tackle who sat out the Penn game, is ready for action, and so are Jimmy Joe Robinson, the team's star runner, and punter Bill Hardisty, both hurt against Penn.

Held Up By Rain

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 2.—

(AP)—Set back 24 hours by the weather man, the 47th North and South open golf tournament got off to a fresh start today.

It's 36-hole windup now shifted to Friday, the 72-hole, $7,500 highlight of this resort village's fall season began anew today

what was washed out yesterday.

It was all rather embarrassing to Pinehurst officials, which has for its principal commodity sunshine and good golfing weather.

Here in the self-proclaimed

"winter golf capital" rain has forced postponement of play two successive years.

About half of the 112-man field was on the No. 2 championship course absorbing a thorough drenching when a midday cloudburst finally forced the calling off of further play. With the wind and the rain in their hair, the unfortunates who were struggling manfully to negotiate the 6,952-yard distance were having all sorts of trouble, scores ranged from par 36 to well in the 40s for the front nine.

Despite the downpour of 18 hours the course should be in top shape, barring additional rain today. The Pinehurst sand has an amazing capacity for absorbing moisture.

Defending Champion Tony

Penna isn't figured to repeat, but then he didn't figure to win last year, either.

Snake Dance, Bonfire To Follow Parade

"Beat East Liverpool" Theme This Week; Boosters Aid Needed

Enthusiasm is high for the Quaker-Potter clash at East Liverpool Friday night and a gigantic snake dance, rally and "beat East Liverpool" party will be held Thursday evening just to kindle more excitement.

Salem Boosters, cooperating with the student body, will take part in assisting with the rally, which will include a parade through the downtown section climaxed by a bonfire rally at the field adjacent to Reilly stadium.

Fritz Bichsel, Boosters club president, has asked all interested members to report to the High school building at 6:30 p. m. Thursday to assist in the arrangements and parade course through town.

Fritz Bichsel, Boosters club president, has asked all interested members to report to the High school building at 6:30 p. m. Thursday to assist in the arrangements and parade course through town.

Bichsel said the club's regular Thursday meeting will go on as scheduled after the rally, probably between 8 and 8:30 at the Memorial building.

A large turnout is expected at that session for two films of games, the Struthers and Akron Central tilts, will be shown. Coach Barrett will tell of his scouting of East Liverpool last week and a nominating committee for 1950 officers will be selected by Bichsel.

Banquet tickets, for the big football affair Nov. 21, will be placed on sale by Cliff Callahan, chairman of the banquet committee.

The High school activity is being arranged by Miss Irene Weeks, cheerleader coach, and she has requested Boosters club help in the rally program.

The Salem High band, the cheerleaders and members of the football squad will take part in the rally.

In half of last season's football games, the Washington Huskies failed to score a point.

Oklahoma A & M Coach Resigns 11-Year Job

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Head Football Coach Jim Lookabaugh's accepted resignation was in the hands of the Oklahoma A & M college athletic cabinet today.

Lookabaugh, with the college for 25 years—as a student, an alumnus and its coach for the past 11 seasons—submitted his resignation yesterday. It was accepted immediately and is effective at the end of the present season.

Dean C. H. McElroy, cabinet chairman, said a successor probably won't be named until after the close of the season. Lookabaugh—coached teams have won 56 games, lost 42 and tied five more.

This season's record is two wins against three losses and a tie.

False Papers Signed To Get Easy Divorces

Columbus Attorney Switched Residences For Two Clients

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Two attractive Zanesville women testified yesterday their attorney, Thomas A. Joseph, had advised them to give false Columbus addresses in order to get "quickie" divorces.

Joseph's trial on 13 counts of subornation of perjury—inducing others to give false testimony—began in Franklin county criminal court before Judge Chester W. Pendleton of Findlay.

Judge Pendleton was assigned to hear the case because virtually every Franklin county judge has at one time or another heard a divorce case presented by Joseph.

tion that they signed affidavits for Joseph which said in part: "At the time (of filing for divorce) I was a resident of Franklin county and represented to Attorney Joseph that I was a legal and bona-fide resident of Franklin county for 30 days or more before he prepared and filed my divorce petition."

Franklin county, following Ohio law, has a six-week waiting period before a divorce petition may be heard and a divorce granted. In Muskingum county, the courts have set a six-month waiting period.

In order to get a divorce in Franklin county an applicant must swear to continuous residence in the county for 30 days prior to filing of the petition.

Mrs. Thompson, a beauty parlor operator, testified yesterday she "did not read" the affidavit when she signed it because she believed it was a legal paper prepared for a division of real estate between herself and her former husband.

She testified that Joseph told her a divorce in Zanesville would cost $85 and one in Columbus $200.

Mrs. Gorton, who said she paid $225 for her divorce, said she "didn't understand what I was signing."

The affidavits were produced by Defense Attorneys Paul M. Herbert of Columbus and Joseph L. Meenan of New Lexington.

OBJECTING to removal of Civil war relics from the auditorium, Canton, O., women auxiliaries of veterans' organizations stop picketing to inspect lock someone has placed on door. Mayor Carl F. # Rail Employees Seek 40-Hour Week

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers has asked the nation's railroads for a 40-hour work week without reduction in 48 hours pay.

D. B. Robertson, president of the B. L. F. & E., said the request applies to men employed in yard, transfer and belt line service and does not include men in road service.

Firemen on steam locomotives and helpers on other than steam power are also affected, and Robertson said negotiations will begin on each individual road.

Besides the 40-hour week without reduction in pay, the union seeks to have all assignments made for not less than five consecutive days per week with all services in excess of eight hours in a day or more than five days per week paid for at time-and-a-half rates.

"Should the individual railroads fail to accept the request," Robertson said, "it is requested that they join with other carriers in authorizing a national conference committee of railroads to deal with the subject."

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hawkins and family of Negley, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Messer and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stryfeler were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wilson.

Mrs. Grace Guess was hostess to the Merry Matrons club at her home, Thursday evening with 15 members present. Bingo was played and other prizes were awarded.

80 Ohio Municipalities To Elect Mayors Next Tuesday

Major Cities Have Contests; Many Issues Up For Vote

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(AP)—More than 80 Ohio municipalities will elect mayors at next Tuesday's general election and all will elect some officials.

Some charter cities do not elect their mayors by direct vote, this being left to councils or commissions.

Virtually all municipalities will vote on local issues—bond issues, tax levies, amendments to charters, utility rates and so on. In some municipalities these issues overshadow mayoralty contests or campaigns for other municipal offices.

Mayorality contests attracting most attention are those in Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and Canton.

No Contests

Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Dayton have no mayoralty contests but select members of council or commissioners.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland is seeking re-election for the first time. He was appointed mayor at the beginning of 1945 to succeed Frank J. Lausche who resigned to take over the office of governor to which he had been elected in the November, 1944, campaign.

Burke was elected to the office in 1947 by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for the office in that city. His opponent this year is Franklin A. Polk.

Burke is a Democrat and Polk a Republican but they run on a non-partisan ticket without party designation.

Mayor Charles E. Slusser of Akron is seeking re-election on the Republican partisan ticket. His Democratic opponent is Richard W. Tobin.

In Youngstown Republican incumbent Charles P. Henderson is seeking re-election in what in recent years has become a citadel of democracy in state and national elections. His Democratic opponent is William D. Holt.

Lima's incumbent, W. L. Ferguson, is seeking re-election on a non-partisan ballot with Stanley A. Wekker as his opponent.

In the same type of election in Zanesville, Mayor William G. Watson is opposed for re-election by Roy R. Nowell.

Elect Commissioners

Springfield will elect members of the city commission while Hamilton and Middletown will elect members of council by the proportional representative vote as is done in Cincinnati. These bodies then elect the mayors.

Columbus will elect a mayor in 1951 on a non-partisan ballot. Among the medium-sized municipalities electing mayors on the partisan Republican and Democrat tickets are Lorain, Mansfield, Marion, Findlay, Elyria, Steubenville, Lancaster and Warren.

Though Circleville still elects its municipal officers as Democrats or Republicans, there are no mayoralty candidates on either of those tickets. Instead these candidates took to the independent column where Incumbent Thurman I. Miller is opposed by Sterling M. Lamb.

In addition to choosing municipal officials and voting on local issues, municipal voters also will register their choice on the three state-wide issues—repeal of the ban against sale of colored oleomargarine, adoption of the office-type ballot, and authorization for the legislature to provide more than one probate judge in the large counties.

Text of Letter To Council From City Engineer

The text of City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff's report to city council last night, citing discrepancies in the Chester Engineering company's recommended water project, follows:

"In reviewing the schemes and estimates in the recent report of the Chester Engineering Co. covering the proposed water project, this office feels it is essential to bring to your attention, as well as to the attention of the Chester Co., that the estimates as presented do not place the relationship between the East Cold Run project and the Butler project in the right proportions.

"I reviewed this matter with Mr. Davis last Monday, Oct. 24, and at that time he related that they would review the Butler project and felt that they had not had time to go into this problem sufficiently.

"If the difference was only a matter of something around $100,000 between the two projects and with a serious riparian problem then I would assume that this letter would be unwarranted. "However, if the same line of thinking is applied to the Butler project as is applied to the East Cold Run project, that is, by pumping to an upstream reservoir, then there is no riparian difficulty in our opinion.

"If this is true then we should view the problem from a cost and adequacy standpoint.

"Cites Mistakes
"It appears that there is in the report a difference of between $100,000 and $200,000 between the two projects as listed. However, there are two large mistakes in the estimating of the Butler project; first, it is assumed that it will require in the Butler project 21,000 feet of 16 inch pipe line, while actually 11,000 feet would probably be sufficient. This difference, based on their estimate of $15 per foot, is an overcharge of $150,000 against the Butler project.

"Also there is a sewage pumping charge against the Butler project of some $80,000 which could not possibly exist. This appears in the estimated costs set up in the filter plants. When we add up the difference in costs as recited in the report, together with the actual errors on setting the Butler project up, we find that the Butler project should be estimated at close to $800,000.

"This would make a spread of between three and four hundred thousand dollars between the Butler project and the East Cold Run project.

"From the standpoint of adequacy, a number of years ago a Mr. Wise, operating as consulting engineer for the City of Salem, departed from the Cold Run territory largely because of the more economic set-up on the Mahoning river.

"He realized, as we do now, that there was nothing to prohibit, in the years to come, the city supplementing this supply from North Georgetown in the event we are operating on an upstream reservoir. And the same reasoning is applied; that is: By pumping the water from Guilford, Cold Run and West fork of Little Beaver into the Mahoning river.

"The identical procedure is anticipated in the East Cold Run project. I do not believe that we should burden the consumers unreasonably, especially when all of the facilities for water are kept in mind by the expenditure of only $800,000 as against $1,200,000 (approximate).

"Therefore, I would suggest that the Chester Engineering Co. be granted sufficient time to adequately give this line of reasoning full consideration. This latter suggestion was made to the writer by Mr. Davis of the Chester Engineering Co."

(Copies of the letter were also sent to the Chester Co., the Salem Chamber of Commerce, J. H. Wilson, president of the Salem Manufacturers association and Service Director F. K. Wilson.)

Errors

letter that he broached this subject to the firm's representative, D. E. Davis, on Oct. 24, the day Davis was meeting here with civic and city officials. He said he told the company he felt a re-examination of the facts was in order.

He did not bring the matter to the attention of the entire city, civic and manufacturers committees at the time Chester was reporting because he felt it was the firm's place to do so, Council President Harry Vincent explained last night.

But when council came up to the point of voting yes or no on the survey report as it stands, the city engineer felt that council should be informed of the discrepancies in estimates before making a decision. Thus, the engineer felt, council could ask for a reconsideration by the engineering firm before making its decision.

Council moved last night that a complete report on the salient factors involved in the two systems be prepared by the Chester outfit and submitted to council at the earliest possible time. Then a decision will be made.

Margaret Won't See Barkley Wedding

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(AP)—Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, said last night she would be unable to attend the wedding of Vice President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley.

Miss Truman, here for a concert tonight, said singing commitments would prevent her from attending the Nov. 18 ceremony in St. Louis. She said she saw the "Veep" and Mrs. Hadley in St. Louis on Saturday, just before the announcement of their engagement. They didn't let her in on the secret, she said. "But you just had to see them together to know things were popping."
